From the Pastor's Keyboard...

Dear Friends,

As I write this, we are in the third week of Lent and spring is in the air! We are back in our sanctuary, our new video equipment is working beautifully, and there are signs of hope and renewal all around us.

It seems rather appropriate that we should re-open on the first Sunday of Lent. After two years and three shutdowns, we have learned well how to dial down our expectations. We have learned well how to adapt to changing circumstances while remaining flexible, and although the situation itself has been devastating, these lessons learned come to us as gifts. They come to us as "new growth", arising out of the ashes of ruin, and what better season than Lent to cultivate this "new growth"?

Lent is that time when we slow down and let go. It is a time of shedding all that keeps us from God, and all the dead-weight that has accumulated throughout the winter. It is a time when the seeds of rebirth begin to stir and make themselves known deep inside us. It is a time of quiet attentiveness to the inner whisper of God – guiding us, calling us, leading us... And I can't help but notice that there is a great deal of stirring going on lately. A great deal of curiosity and searching, for something deeper, something more holy and pure than the over-bearing and demanding God we were presented with as children.

We have two adult discussion groups going on now. We have our regular Faith Explorers on Wednesday mornings and now we have the Faith Explorers Evening Edition which happens at 6 pm. And to my great happiness, both groups are thriving with lots of deep questions being asked, and raw honesty being shared.

We are living in both conflicting and unstable times. And beneath our brave exteriors, we are all deeply worried. And we have questions. Lots of questions – especially about God. Who is God? How do I perceive God? How do I pray? What is prayer? How do I know if God is even listening? And Jesus, who was he, really? And that book of Revelation? Who came up with that? And why?

We might not come up with any final answers, but that's not the point. The point is to ask the questions together – to talk about them together, honestly, and openly,

OUR VISION "To be a welcoming and thriving Christian Community, living our faith through reflection and action, while remaining grounded in God's love."

OUR MISSION "To grow and share our faith, worship God, and follow Jesus Christ in the ways of love, peace, compassion, justice and the nurturing of God's creation."

and it is in the sharing of ourselves and our pain and our joy, that we encounter the divine.

Someone was wishing out loud that we could have those types of discussion in worship, and I thought to myself how wonderful that would be, and how might we do that?

We know that the God (most of us) grew up with as children is not the Living God we are seeking today, but what is it? How do we perceive God together, as a community of faith? That's an important question, one that I don't believe we have ever asked. Could this be a nudge?

During this season of Lent, let us discern together, what is God calling us to? What "new thing" is God about to do? Maybe a post-worship discussion group? I am open to conversations about God – always. It's my thing. But let's think about it, and listen, and discern – quietly and together.

Holding you all in my heart and prayers,

Pastor Joy

Would you like to get involved? Volunteer for one of our missions.

Little Free Pantry - Serves the members of the community by providing food for anyone in need. The Pantry is found outside in the front of the church. Donated food items should be easy to open and easy to eat with minimal to no preparation. We could also use some toiletries and personal items. Workers are needed to make this successful each month. Please sign up to work one or more Saturdays through the entire season. Call into the office or contact Denise Whitish. Please let us know how you can help. Let's keep the best pasties in town available. Pasty dates - October 9, November 13, December 11, January 8, February 12, March 12, and April 9.
